Dear Morrie,

Many thanks for the invitation to the ABA Conference on Law, Intelligence and National Security. I am so delighted that you are doing this and that your whole program has moved along so well since we first discussed your plans.

Unfortunately, I am presently scheduled to be out of the city on the days of the Conference. I say "presently scheduled" simply because the Iranian situation leaves my life totally unpredictable. If I do have to stay in town for Iranian matters, perhaps I can sneak over for some small part of the Conference. I'll try.

All good wishes.

Yours,
